Our right of association first comes from the Author of existence as seen in the Constitution of Vermont, July 8, 1777, and followed by the California Constitution.

WHEREAS, all government ought to be instituted and supported, for the security and protection of the community, as such, and to enable the individuals who compose it, to enjoy their natural rights, and the other blessings which the Author of existence has bestowed upon man; and whenever those great ends of government are not obtained, the people have a right, by common consent, to change it, and take such measures as to them may appear necessary to promote their safety and happiness.

As also seen in Chapter I Section III A Declaration Of The Rights Of The Inhabitants Of The State Of California;

III. That all men have a natural and unalienable right to worship ALMIGHTY GOD, according to the dictates of their own consciences and understanding, regulated by the word of GOD;

IV. That the people of this State have the sole, exclusive and inherent right of governing and regulating the internal police of the same.

VI. That government is, or ought to be, instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security of the people, nation or community; and not for the particular emolument or advantage of any single man, family or set of men, who are a part only of that community; and that the community hath an indubitable, unalienable and indefeasible right to reform, alter, or abolish, government, in such manner as shall be, by that community, judged most conducive to the public weal.

XIII. That, in controversies respecting property, and in suits between man and man, the parties have a right to a trial by jury; which ought to be held sacred.

XVIII. That the people have a right to assemble together, to consult for their common good-to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the legislature for redress of grievances, by address, petition or remonstrance.

All the Members of the PMA agree, that as Men and Women, we agree to self-governance and that any dispute will be addressed internally among the Members of the PMA (Jury of Members/Peers).

In order to protect all members of the PMA from any adverse action by any local, municipal, county, state or federal administrative or regulatory agency, BAR Association, or any court, or any quasi-governmental agency, or any private for-Profit Corporation, in exchange for the benefits offered by the PMA, all members consent to the terms and conditions set forth in this contract.

Predicated on the above and in order to protect each members' privacy and prevent the unconstitutional and unwarranted application of any public law to the PMA, each member takes upon themselves the responsibility for their own education, learning and knowledge of the law and in so doing consents to do due diligence regarding anything offered to them by any other PMA member and to make fully informed decisions on matters of law or procedure that the members individually or collectively think best for complying with the law and living a healthy productive life in order to attain, restore and maintain optimum physical, mental and spiritual wellness and protect private property.
